Thank you for reaching out, Kranthi –

I am very happy to have had an opportunity to work with you. Your development work and attention to detail was impeccable. You were a great asset to the A&R team during a time with a lot of detailed development occurring alongside stretching our developers to learn new things. You have been organized, efficient and clearly communicating across the team. I am hopeful that the rest of the team has also benefited from the example that you have set.

It would be my pleasure to work alongside you again in the future. Best of luck to you in the next chapter of your story Kranthi.

Hi @Kranthi Kumar Bolli CW

It's a shame to hear this, I didn't expect this news, I really like to work with you, you have been so helpful in the team and I think it would be great to work with you again.

You fitted in very well with the team and in a very short time, your UI skills are great, your way to solve the issues are impressive. Please keep working hard to improve your knowledge, I think you could search for the best practices to work with CSS and JS just to keep in mind what is the best way to work in any project you work in the future, but honestly believe you are a great front end developer.

I hope to work together in a close future again.

Keep safe and I hope you and yours are always well.

Hello Kranthi,

Thank you very much, you have been of great help to the team, especially to me. I remember the first time you came in I think I passed the UI item I was working on to you on the agreement component selector because I was really stuck with that and you helped, so I really, really appreciate that, if I can I will also make time to study that Select2 library and your implementation. 😊 Of course thank you for the many items in A&R that you provided assistance with, you are really a great teammate, and also fun as I saw during our retro ice breakers 😊. Thank you very much! I wish you all the best! I also hope to have an opportunity to work with you in the future. 😊
